Check anywhere in the world for disasters and unrest.

With Vigil Pro

Ask.

Ask it what's happening, in plain words. Privately.

Hear.

Get an alert when a warning reaches your place.

Storm heading for Mum's place? Open it and see.

Is there a warning where she lives?

The official warning for her place, in the Met Office's own words.

How close is the flood?

Floods, storms, wildfires and earthquakes, anywhere in the world, on one map.

What's going on in her city?

Protests, strikes and unrest, reported as they happen. Always labelled as reported.

Is it still fine to go?

Your own government's travel advice, with an alert if the level rises.

What's happening, and what to do.

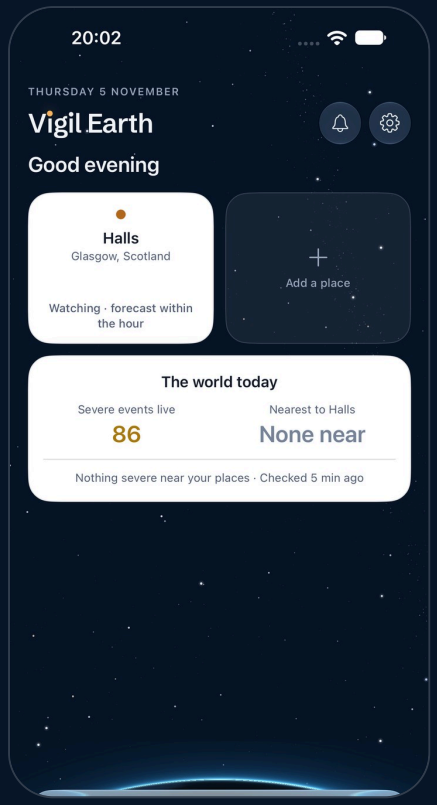

See your home cameras, live.

Follow the checklist for that place.

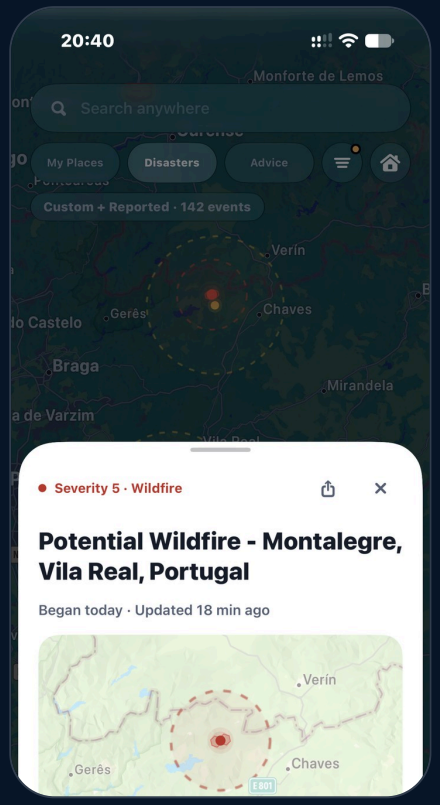

Share the warning with the family.

Open it and look.

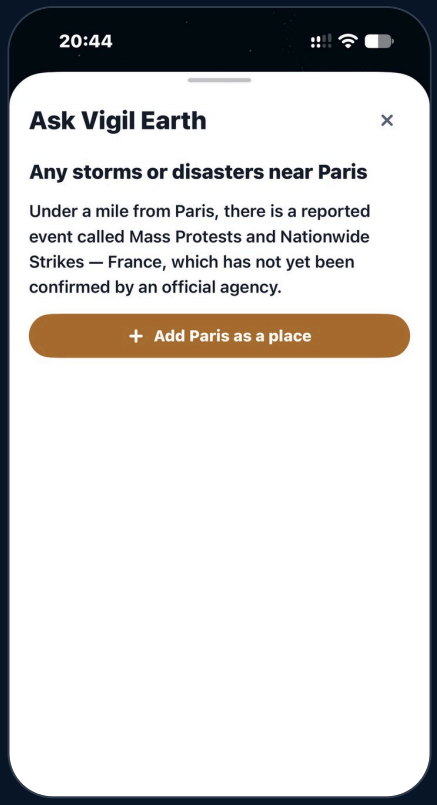

Real screens from the app. Full-size files, the app icon and the logo are free to use in coverage.

Questions people ask.

My weather app already sends warnings. Why this?

Weather apps cover the weather, usually in one country. This adds disasters, unrest and travel advice, for every place your family is.

Does it track people?

No. It watches places, never people. Nobody shares where they are.

Is it official advice?

It shows each government's own words, with a link to the official page. It is not produced or endorsed by any government.

Does it promise to keep anyone safe?

No. It shows you what is happening. You decide what to do.

Where does camera video go?

You see your Apple Home cameras live in the app. The video never reaches us.

What happens after the 7 days?

Vigil Pro carries on yearly unless you cancel. If you cancel, one place stays free. Nothing is deleted.
